And finally: Today in the gospel we hear how our Lord allowed His disciples to see His glory. Not only was this vision to strengthen their faith as He approached His Passion and Death, but it served also as a promise of the glory that one day we shall all share with Him in Heaven. During Lent, through our acts of prayer, fasting and alms giving, we allow the Lord, by the action of His grace, to bring about the changes in our lives that are necessary, to transfigure our lives, in order that we may be worthy to share His glory. This transfiguration takes place most effectively each time we come to the Sacraments. Today with St. Peter let us say ‘Lord it is good for us to be here’, and then allow ourselves to be changed by the mystery of His love. May God bless you all. Fr. Craig
