Pope Francis:

Sometimes we human beings believe that we are the masters of everything, or on the contrary, we lose all self-esteem. Prayer helps us to find the right dimensions in our relationship with God, our Father, and with all creation.

This Week's CaFOD Prayer (Twenty-Eighth Sunday)

Lord God, may your grace go before us and follow after in all that we do; with such safeguard and aid may we always carry out with determination the good works you ask of us, for your name's sake.

And finally:- The Gospel of the 28th Week in Ordinary Time, Year C, draws our attention to gratitude or thankfulness. In the passage we have just heard we see how only one of the ten lepers who received the gift of healing returned to thank our Lord for the miracle He had performed for them. The question that each of us is called to ask ourselves as we listen to this Gospel is "Am I the one who returned or am I one of the nine"? As Christians we are called to recognise, with an attitude of gratitude, the many gifts that God pours out upon us each and every day of our lives here on earth. Whilst it is easy to recognise, and give thanks for, the many blessings we receive: health, family, friends, faith, a new day etc. Do we also see God's hand at work, moulding and shaping us for the good, in the struggles, difficulties, hardships and sufferings that we sometimes have to endure? In all things may we be people of thankfulness and praise, as God, in His all-knowing wisdom, pours out His gifts by which He forms us anew each day.

May God bless you all. Fr. Craig
